Announcements:

Do you have a ton of school spirit, enjoy making new friends, helping your community, and organizing events? If you answered yes, then consider joining student council! Meetings are 1-2 times a month and you can be a part of helping WMS and our community! Applications are available in the student office or from Ms. Jami in room 104. Applications are due on Friday, September 7th so get yours today!

Hey WMS the library has some exciting news! Antony John author of the Elemental series, Five Flavors of Dumb and his latest novel, Mascot is coming to the library September 12 during 6th hour. If you are interested in coming, please sign up with Mrs. Brockman or Mrs. Powell in the library or talk to your ELA teacher. Books are also for sale! Order forms are in the library.

If you are wanting to come down to the library during lunch, lunch passes will be up for grabs starting Monday. You may not eat your lunch in the library, but you can come down after you are finished. There are only so many passes each day, so stop by the library in the morning if you are wanting one.

Hey WMS! Are you interested in the medical field? How about designing and building things? Or what about technology or even more scientific investigations? If you are, then STEM is the club for you! We meet twice a month with 2 clubs from Holt, HOSA, and Engineering to explore, build, create and discuss. Check out the flyers in your hallway to sign up, or see Ms. Click in room 103. Meetings start Sept 10th. Sign up now!

The deadline to pre order a yearbook at a discount has been extended until Friday, September 7 Books are $25 now and will go up $5 this Saturday. Preorder today to save.
